'Nobody for President' rally today

The third Nobody for President rally will be held today from noon to 1:30 p.m. at Union Square in San Francisco.

The event, which originated in 1976 and has been held every presidential campaign year since, is being organized by noted counterculture figure and humanist Wavy Gravy.

Featured performers at this year's rally will include the Dinosaurs, the Flying Karamazov Brothers and social satirist Paul Krassner.

Gravy, who identifies himself as "Nobody's fool," guarantees that the event will be the "poly-tickle rally of the century."
